

SATURDAY, SEPT. 25, 1868, 1 A.M.

See Reading matter on First Page.

FOR MAYOR,
THOMAS B. CRAWFORD,
ELECTION, OCTOBER 4.

See first page for my advertisements.

We publish on our first page the proceedings of both bodies of the General Council at their last meeting.

Our readers in the country may be assured that hand-bills against other newspaper statements are never enclosed in the Journal by us.

Attention! members of House Council and Americans of the Seventh Ward. There will be a meeting hall at the Bell-hop engine-house, on (Saturday) evening, to make the American nomination. All members of the American party, residents in the Ward, are especially invited.

LOUISVILLE CHEMICAL WORKS.—This establishment, erected on the corner of High and Thirteenth streets, by Dr. J. Lawrence Smith, has been in successful operation nearly a year, and achieved a wide celebrity. It is the only establishment of the kind in the Western States, and is the only one of extensive range of articles in medicinal and chemical arts. The works, in all their arrangements, are as perfect as science and skill make them. Smith is extensively used in most of the operations, and in many ways exceeds our neighbors. The articles supplied from the works have already acquired a high reputation among the physicians who have used them. Indeed, it is the ambition of the proprietors, to make all the products of the plant, and to supply the market with them, in any other laboratory, while he is determined to make the business an important commercial element of our city's prosperity by competing with other similar arts, both in quality and facilities.

The works are already erected to supply a very large demand, but can be increased as exigencies may demand.

We have spoken of the beauty of the chemicals and pharmaceutical preparations from these works, the character of which is well known to the medical Institute here. Prof. South of the Medical Department of the University of Louisville, has the scientific and practical knowledge and the energy of distinction which are required to give character to such a work. The proprietors are members of the party, uniform strength, superior quality, efficiency, and reliable strength of all the articles of the materia medica prepared by Dr. Smith, and, when we consider the importance of having a deposit of such articles in our city, we may begin to estimate the value of these Chemical Works to the medical profession and droughts throughout the entire valley of the Ohio and Mississippi.

In view of the want of space, to direct public attention to all the points of interest about these works, which struck us during a careful examination last week. We may, however, mention the mills, for pulverizing roots, barks, and other substances, which are used in the preparation of the Mississippi, Ohio, and Big River Railroad Company of Arkansas. The iron is to be used upon the first road across the Mississippi swamp, and is adapted in size and form to a style of construction adopted by the railroad company. The railroad is to be built up by Captain Clegg, of the City Hall police court. The railroad company will not be able to purchase without a heavy sacrifice and more delay a heavy rail, the engineer has suggested to them a form of track that will be easier to lay, and will be more durable, at only one-third the cost of a 40-lb. rail.

THE ELECTORAL JOURNAL.—The Louisville Journal contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as indicated by the returns is overwhelming. Out of 24,808 votes cast, 20,301 were against the Governor, and 4,507 for him. No danger appears, and stands probably undivided.

CHARLES C. CLEGG.—The Louisville Journal

contains an official list of all the returns made to the Governor up to now of Tuesdays for Judge of the Supreme Court. These were to be sent in the election of 1872, of which Judge Wright received 12,227, and Dr. Clegg 11,700. The returns of the election of the Governor, up to now, will be mostly as

